LEARNING SPACES ONLINE 2021-2022

Justificación

The development of 21st century skills implies the use of active methodologies and the necessity of a new distribution of the spaces in the school and in the classroom, in contrast with the traditional way of teaching in a traditional classroom.

Therefore, learning spaces lead to new ways of teaching in a collaborative way, both with students and teachers and the introduction of new technologies implies a new way of dealing with classroom furniture and physical materials in a more flexible way. This new distribution of spaces reflects a vision of learning focused on students' active participation rather than on teacher-centered classes.

This course will provide you with ideas and methodological approaches that you can apply in your schools and classrooms.
